Theodore Chesebro

Thank you so much to each of you who came to celebrate us!! If you don't know me, my name is Teddy, and I've lived in Colorado for the whole 18ish years of my life. I've been an avid tree climber and hiker for all that time, and am so thankful to have been a part of the Royal Ranger program and Stoa speech and debate. I love Lord of the Rings, archery, learning about other languages and going on runs in the middle of the night. In addition, I'm addicted to music and I love songs that tell about the beauty of our risen

God. For the past years, I've also been learning to create music of my own! More important than all of that, I am one of the sinners and failures who Christ loves.

Thanks to the Miami Yoder Preparatory Academy, I'll be graduating with an associates degree in Spanish. Next semester, I plan to attend Charleston Southern University in South Carolina and study Business Management. Afterwards, I would hope to pursue a Master's of Divinity. Truthfully, I don't know what my life will look like in the next few months or years - but I'm so thankful for the life I've already had, and I'm so excited for the future.

Isaiah 33:22

"For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Lawgiver, the Lord is our King. He will save us."

Justice Dalby

I have done a wide variety of extracurricular activities throughout my life, from weeklong sports camps to “playing” the trumpet. Having been fully homeschooled my whole life, most of these have been with at least a couple of siblings. One of the most memorable of these activities was doing competitive Taekwondo, earning my black belt, along with most of my family, in December of 2021. Being an avid collector of all things creepy and crawly, I’ve had countless grasshoppers, spiders, caterpillars, and the like, as pets. I currently have a lizard, two salamanders, and a black widow. When not researching random animals, trying to convince my parents to let me breed my salamanders, or chasing crickets, I can usually be found crocheting, baking, or reading.

I plan on staying in Colorado Springs after graduation, pursuing a degree in business management through Liberty University Online and getting management experience by working with my dad at his boat and RV storage facility.

Isaiah 40:29-31

“He gives power to the weak, And to those who have no might He increases strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, And the young men shall utterly fall, But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; They shall mount up with wings like eagles, They shall run and not be weary, They shall walk and not faint.”

Cara Enos

As the youngest nugget of the Eni clan, I have spent my years learning and loving the adventures of being a part of a big family. I've been known as bubbly, a counselor, and wielder of endless source of hugs and dubious laughter, but out of all those things, there is one common trait—Joy. God has blessed me with His Joy, enabling me to know who I am and WHOSE I am. I love people! And that's an understatement. Being the crazy extrovert that I am, people have always been such an important part of my life.

especially since I rely on their energy to sustain my power for world domination. I have had incredible opportunities to invest in people through close friendships, mentorships, and leading a discipleship program called Little Sisters.

So, as I venture off to Cedarville University in Ohio, I'm excited to answer God's call on my life to invest in others through Biblical Counseling and music. I have always loved worship, and I hope to grow in my ability to host 'The Presence' by inviting and leading others in genuine worship. As God prepares me for His plans, I hope to use the skills I gain from Cedarville to open up my own counseling practice that focuses on a biblical approach to the daily struggles of being human.

Nehemiah 8:10

"This day is holy to our Lord. Do not grieve, for the joy of the Lord is your strength."

Zane Enos

I am Zane Enos, also known as “that funny guy,” “Cara’s twin,” “Zany,” or occasionally “Z dawg.” I have learned that the world is not trustworthy, but God is. I am a child of God raised in a homeschooled household with seven siblings, assisting Cara in all things devious. I have led my peers, encouraged the masses and tried to approach situations with a Zany smile and Godly attitude. God has blessed my life in my family, friends, Trail Life, The Sanctuary Church, Resolve and in building my character. I enjoy going on adventures like hiking, camping, backpacking, singing songs in dangerous areas, philosophizing, theological discussions, and long moonlit walks on the beach.

I will attend Cedarville University in the Land of the Corn. I’m planning to combine my analytical debate brain with my philosophical brain and study Economics. I plan to join the forensics team because I have not made enough children cry. I am considering pursuing ministry after college, so Cedarville’s extensive ministry opportunities and faith-based majors and minors are important. My goal is to become a policy analyst, pursue the Truth and include the outcasts because God has given me a heart for these things. More immediately, I plan to create a secret bunker filled with the essentials: The Bible, SpaghettiOs, 5 copies of Mere Christianity, and a lifetime stash of Mountain Dew Baja Blast.

Numbers 6: 24-26

“The Lord bless you and keep you; The Lord make his face shine upon you, and be gracious to you; The Lord lift up His countenance upon you, And give you peace.”

Thaddeus Hayes

It's been an excellent year. I'm so thankful to my family and community for their constant support. As I head out to Patrick Henry College in the fall I will take with me the memories of many hours of friendship and learning. I endeavor to use all of the wisdom that has been poured into me over the years by the incredible people God has put into my life.

2 Corinthians 12:9

“But He said to me, ‘My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is made perfect in weakness.’ Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, that Christ’s power may rest on me.”

Alexis Pettigrew

I'm the third out of four kids in my family. I, like all my siblings, was born in Georgia, but have spent more than ten years living in Colorado. I love the community here, but miss the trees and humidity of the south. I love books and I'm both a bookworm and a bookdragon. The combined hobbies have managed to overtake six bookshelves in my room alone. When I'm not reading, I enjoy writing my own books, a passion that has taken up the last six years. My projects mostly consist of middle grade and young adult fantasy, but include some sci-fantasy, contemporary, and nonfiction. Apart from writing, I love working with children and helping out at my church. In my spare time, I enjoy crafting, particularly with my Cricut machine.

I mainly want to pursue my writing and become a self-published author. I plan to publish my first book this fall and will be working on it, and my other big projects, over the summer. After taking a gap period, I plan on joining the Author Conservatory, which is a three year online college alternative for writers. It includes entrepreneurship curriculum, which I'm planning on using with my love of crafting. I plan to continue serving in my church and working with children and preparing to move back to Georgia with my parents and younger sister next year.

Romans 8:28

“And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to His purpose.”

Nate Sargent

I am a young man with the soul of a seventy-year-old, the goofiness of a four-year-old, and the body of an eighteen-year-old. Coffee runs through my veins, and one of my favorite things is watching people talk about or do the things that God has made them love. Winnie the Pooh is my best friend, second only to Jesus. When I'm not at a speech and debate tournament, you can find me playing the piano, reading, problem solving, thinking about big ideas, drinking coffee, calling or hanging out with friends and family, and, of course, shut up in my room with my Bible. More importantly than anything, I am a follower of Jesus, and God's love for me defines my life.

I believe God is calling me to pastoral ministry. My plan at this point is to attend a one year leadership and discipleship school next year, and then go to university. My motivation for my life is to be pleasing to my Heavenly Father, and to share the good news of the gospel wherever I go. I hope one day to be entrusted with a wife and family, and to help care for Jesus' bride through ministering and shepherding.

Psalm 27:4

“One thing I have desired of the Lord, that will I seek: That I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in His temple.”

Caden Williams

My name is Caden, which means “friend” or “companion”. This is fitting for an extrovert such as myself, as I love God and I love my family and friends. I desire to serve God and trust Him with my whole heart. And I strive to be kindhearted, compassionate, and encouraging. It is my belief that one of God’s greatest blessings to His children is that of friendship. Both in the way that He seeks relationship with us, and by the good friends that He blesses us with. My friends mean the world to me, and admittedly, I prefer to be in the company of those I love more than anything else. It brings me joy to serve others, and I want to be the best friend that I can be.

I will be attending Liberty University in Virginia. At this point in time, I have not declared a major. However, my passion is for serving others through leadership and communication. I believe that influence is the heart of leadership and communication is the heart of connection. In such a broken and hurting world, I want to share both of these gifts to reflect God’s love for others, and bring glory to His name.

Psalms 86:11-12

“Teach me your way, O Lord, that I may walk in your truth; unite my heart to fear your name. I give thanks to you, O Lord my God, with my whole heart, and I will glorify your name forever.”

Merek Williams

I am a devout Christian who is dedicated to the Lord. As a hobby, I participate in martial arts. Specifically, I have some experience in karate and have done two years of Filipino stick fighting. In my free time, I play an assortment of video games, as well as online chess.

Telling and hearing stories is a favorite pastime of mine, with How to Train Your Dragon, Ninjago, and The Lord of the Rings being some of my favorites. I also enjoy philosophy and theology.

I plan on going to Liberty University for the first two years to finish my Gen Eds, then transfer to another university to gain a degree in Marine Biology. I hope to become a Marine Scientist and study creatures that live in the ocean. I also plan to minor in history, as I find the topic interesting and fun to learn about. Regardless of where I end up, I aspire to please God with whatever I do.

Proverbs 3:5-6

“Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths.”

Class of 2024

Acknowledgements

God: our Savior and Friend, who has been exceedingly good to us; who has given us all that we need, blessed us with amazing skills, and who has kept us walking on the path of righteousness, among countless other wonderful works.

Parents & Family: who have worked tirelessly and sacrificed much for our education and development, inspired us to be better people, and who have loved us all deeply.

Siblings: for dealing with us gracefully, loving us in our worst, and for all the care, encouragement, and support that you have given us every day.

Friends & Fellow Graduates: for being a huge part of our lives, for your support and encouragement, for investing into the lives of all of us, and for being crucial influences for who we are today. We would not be who we are without you.

Coaches: Mrs. Enos, Mr. Sparks, Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Leander, Mrs. Buster, and AnnaRose Byrnes, for your endless contribution to investing into our lives; for teaching us and for creating a beautiful community that seeks to honor God. You have been more than just coaches to us. You have become like dear friends and family.

VGBC & Staff: for graciously providing a facility for our graduation ceremony and for hosting speech and debate tournaments.

Brandt Family: for graciously hosting parties and dances all throughout the year and for hosting our graduation party.

Victor Mendoza & Jonathan Loh: for leading worship during our graduation ceremony.

Candalyn Pettigrew & Thomas Sargent: our photographer and videographer, for helping us preserve the memories of this special occasion.

Truly, there are so many people who have influenced our lives. To those who weren't specifically mentioned: mentors, teachers, pastors, and all who have impacted our lives; it is humbling to look back and see the endless sacrifices and acts of selflessness that have made us into the men and women that we are today.

You all have been a huge blessing to us and for this we give our unending thanks!
